Renaissance IPO Index

Index Description

The Renaissance IPO Index is a stock market index based upon a portfolio of U.S.-listed newly public companies, ahead of their inclusion in core equity indices. The Index reflects approximately the top 80% of newly public companies in capitalization terms, is weighted by float capitalization and imposes a 10% cap on the weight of large constituents. Sizable IPOs are added on a fast entry basis and the rest are added during scheduled quarterly reviews. Companies that have been public for two years are removed at the next quarterly review. The index serves as the underlying benchmark to the Renaissance IPO ETF (NYSE Ticker:IPO).

Performance Disclosure: Past performance does not guarantee future results. The performance data quoted represents past performance and current returns may be lower or higher. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing.

Definitions: Renaissance IPO Index® (IPOUSA) is a stock market index based upon a portfolio of U.S.-listed newly public companies. The S&P 500® Index (SPX) is a stock market index based on the market capitalizations of 500 large companies whose common stock is publicly traded on the NYSE or NASDAQ. The Index does not charge management fees or brokerage expenses, nor does the Index lend securities, and no revenues from securities lending were added to the performance shown.

Risk Disclosure: Investment in the Renaissance IPO ETF (NYSE Ticker: IPO), is subject to investment risk, including possible loss of principal amounts invested. The ETF invests in companies that have recently completed initial public offerings. These stocks are unseasoned equities lacking trading history, a track record of reporting to investors and widely available research coverage which may result in extreme price volatility. The ETF may be subject to information technology and financial sector risk and small and mid-capitalization company risk. The ETF may hold securities in the form of Depository Receipts, REITs and Partnership Units which have greater risks than common shares. The strategy has high portfolio turnover and securities lending risks. ETF returns may not match the return of the respective index. ETFs are classified as non-diversified investment companies subject to concentration risk.
